THE GAFFER

WE COME INTO THIS AFTERNOON'S GAME AGAINST BOLTON WANDERERS
LOOKING TO GET BACK ON TRACK AFTER A COUPLE OF DISAPPOINTING
RECENT RESULTS.

I think everybody knows the Championship is tough. We've not been in the division for a long time and we did say, even when we were winning games, that there would be parts of the season where things wouldn't go for us with injuries and suspensions playing a part. It's during these periods of time that we all stick together and ensure we don't get too down.

It's a long season and so far we've probably had more highs than lows. We're all disappointed with the manner that we lost the games against Middlesbrough and Leeds, but there will be many more positives to come before the season finishes. We've seen so many teams in this division go on little runs to get right in amongst the top end of the table and we want to get real consistency into the team to go on a run of results like Millwall has enjoyed recently. We're certainly capable of doing that.

We've got players coming back from injury and suspension that will increase the quality of the available squad; our guys with genuine experience at this level.

We are a young Championship team in terms of games at this level, but we have to deal with that and our young players have to learn from their experiences this season.

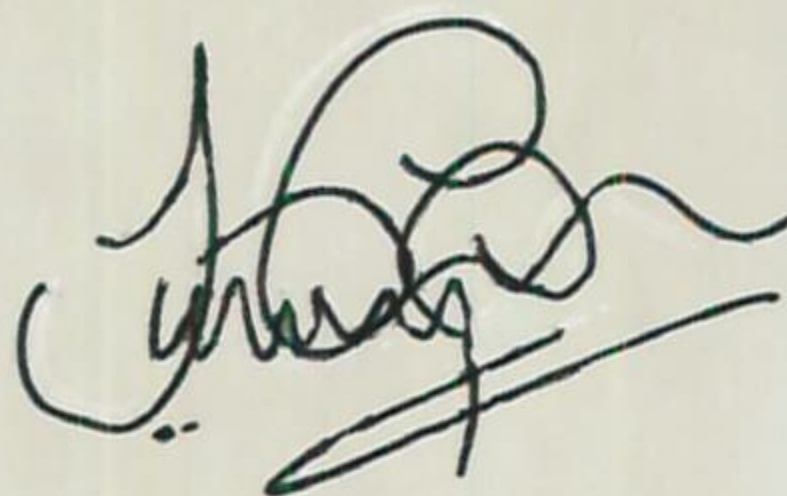

Certain players have had to wait patiently for their opportunity but once that comes, it is up to them to grasp it and make it difficult for me to leave them out. I had no hesitation in putting Chris Atkinson into the team last weekend because I felt the experience at Chesterfield had done him the power of good and he took his goal with the calmness of a more experienced player; I'm delighted with how he adapted and settled into a big game. He'll get better the more games he plays too.

Since my last set of programme notes, the FA Cup Third Round Draw has been made – handing us an away game at Charlton Athletic. I think every club in the country would have liked a home or away game against a Premier League team and we're no different. I'm sure Charlton weren't either! Unfortunately it's another trip down to London for our fans, but we know enough about them and we believe we are capable of winning that game. We played very well with 10 and 11 men down there in the League recently and we'll look forward to that game once we've completed the very busy Christmas period.

We've had a tough run of games and it doesn't get any easier today; Bolton were in the Premier League last season and they have good international players on its books. They have different expectancy levels to us – they will be looking to bounce back into the top flight quickly – but we believe we are capable of beating any opponent if we perform as we can.

Finally, from myself and all the staff, we'd like to wish you a Merry Christmas.

Get behind the lads today,

THE CHAIRMAN

hanks for coming to the Stadium today to support the team as we take on Bolton Wanderers in our latest npower Championship fixture.

I would like to welcome the Directors, officials and staff from today's visitors; I hope you enjoy our hospitality this afternoon and have a safe journey home after the game.

Today we promote a very important message for the second successive season – just how vital Organ Donation is. I'm fortunate enough that no member of my immediate family has been influenced by the need for an organ transplant in my life so far, but it's amazing how many cases are relevant in my life when we come to focus on the 'Give and Let Live' campaign.

When we promoted this message last season, I learned for the first time that our former player Anthony Lloyd's daughter could need a lung transplant during her life due to cystic fibrosis and I was already well aware of the case of our Ticket Office Manager Sue Beaumont and her husband Charlie. This year we've come to launch the campaign again and it's become hugely relevant to the Huddersfield Town family once again due to the husband of our Ticket Office employee Hilary, which you can read about in today's programme. Both personally and on behalf of the Club, I would like to wish Dave all the best as he fights idiopathic pulmonary fibrosis.

Signing up to the Organ Donation register is incredibly easy; simply call the NHS Donor Line on 0300 123 23 23 or visit www.organdonation.nhs.uk. It could make a huge difference to somebody you know.

On the pitch, we come into today's game on the back of last weekend's defeat to Leeds United. There was no hiding anyone's disappointment after the game and I'm well aware how much that game means to our fans, but we have to move on. We all knew that our first season back in the npower Championship would be a very tough proposition and that we would have difficult spells, but I know we have the quality at this Club – both in terms of the players and technical staff – to get back on the right track today. Bolton are another quality opponent and were playing in European competitions in the not too distant past, but we have already seen this season that we are capable of taking on any team in this division.

Enjoy the game,

DANNY WARD

Today marks the second successive season that Town has dedicated a game to promote the importance of Organ Donation.

Last season, the Terriers' promotion of Organ Donation helped secure a large number of new donors – and this year we want to do the same.

The subject of organ donation is particularly poignant considering today's opponents. Bolton signed Croatian Ivan Klasnic in 2010 following a successful loan spell, a player, who prior to joining the Club, had to undergo two surgeries as a result of kidney failure. You can read Ivan's story on pages 42 and 43 of today's programme.

Huddersfield Town player Danny Ward was an up and coming prospect at Bolton when Klasnic joined and admitted that he wasn't aware of the striker's previous troubles with illness.

"I was still a young lad when he joined the Club. I wasn't aware of his previous problems and it was the other lads within the squad that spoke to me about it and explained," Danny told Give Us An H.

"He wasn't one for speaking about what had happened, I think he just wanted to concentrate on his football more than anything else and put that period of his life behind him.

"He had to take injections at least every day," the winger continued. "I remember him pulling out a needle in the changing room one day and I was really shocked by it. He always self-medicated, I never saw him with the Club's doctors or physios to treat what had happened.

"I REMEMBER HIM PULLING OUT A NEEDLE IN THE CHANGING ROOM ONE DAY AND I WAS REALLY SHOCKED BY IT. HE ALWAYS SELF-MEDICATED, I NEVER SAW HIM WITH THE CLUB'S DOCTORS OR PHYSIOS TO TREAT WHAT HAD HAPPENED"

"You wouldn't have known what he had been through if you watched him train up close. He gave 100% in both training and on a match day and his goal scoring record for Bolton was very good. He is a great character, with a big personality, who worked extremely hard at Bolton to reproduce the form that he showed in German football."

Ward, 20, joined the Wanderers in 2007 after playing his youth football for Bradford and latterly Leeds United. The Whites thought highly enough of Danny to offer him a scholarship at Thorp Arch, but the Bradford-born winger had his eyes set on one day playing in the Premier League.

"I have got a great family around me who have always supported me in whatever I wanted to do," said Ward. "I thought it would be good for me at that age to go and join a Club who were doing well in the Premier League. It was a massive Club and I felt that it was the next step in my development as a footballer to becoming a professional.

"Leeds offered me a two year scholarship, but at around the same time Bolton offered me a similar deal but with the security that I would be a professional footballer come the end of it. The thought of playing in the Premier League was the main attraction. Also, my agent at the time was the agent of Gary Speed and he supported me in my decision."

Leeds at that time were struggling financially and were losing a lot of their young assets to Premier League clubs. The likes of Michael Woods and Tom Taiwo joined Chelsea, whereas, Danny Rose moved to north London with Tottenham.

“Seeing those lads leave didn’t really influence my decision – it came down to what I wanted. My mate Ben Gordon, who was at Leeds with me, also went down to Chelsea with Woodsy and Taiwo. They all got excellent moves, but I felt that I had a better chance of playing in the Premier League with Bolton.”

He added: “When I moved to Bolton I spent the first two years of my scholarship in Digs and was ferried back and forth to the training ground by a minibus with the other lads in the youth system. Moving away from home played a big part in helping me grow up as a person, I was away from my family which was a massive change, but one that I enjoyed.”

Danny played just 16 minutes of senior football for Bolton which came at the start of the 2009/10 Premier League season. He instead enjoyed loan spells at Swindon and Town, but was never able to break into the Bolton first team upon his return.

“When I was attempting to break into the first team they had a brilliant squad and it is never easy to just walk in to the team irrespective of how well you have done out on loan. The team itself wasn’t flying in the League and I think the manager opted towards experienced players to get them out of trouble, rather than throw a young lad in.

“My plan was to gain experience on loan and then fight for a spot, but when I went back I could tell that I wasn’t going to be involved as much as I wanted to be. I loved my time at Huddersfield Town on loan and was delighted to come back here and play regular first team football.”

On today’s game, he said: “I don’t have anything to prove to Bolton, I just want to put in a good performance for the team to help us get back to winning ways – we haven’t been good enough of late. There are a still quite a few faces at the Club that were there when I was and it will be nice to see them again.”

The winger will celebrate his 21st birthday tomorrow and told GUAH that three points today will be the best present he can receive.

“It would be a nice way to celebrate the occasion! It is a massive game for us and three points are needed to get us out of this poor run that we are in.”

‘GIVE AND LET LIVE’ HITS HOME

A case study from the Huddersfield Town family

Meltham man David Horsfall – husband of Town’s Receptionist Hilary – was fit and healthy until he came down with a cough and cold in 2009 and now faces a double lung transplant.

David was diagnosed with idiopathic pulmonary fibrosis, an incurable lung disease and a transplant is his only option of regaining his health.

Hilary has spoken of their plight as the Club gets ready to host its second Support Organ Donation match on Saturday, following on from the success of last season’s game against Oldham Athletic.

“It all started a couple of weeks before Christmas 2009 when David had a cold and a cough, it was quite a bad one, and he never got over it.”

Doctors prescribed antibiotics and the former joiner returned to work, but the cough persisted.

“He was sent for an X-ray but they didn’t seem too concerned with what it showed,” Hilary added. “By Christmas 2010 I noticed that he couldn’t speak a sentence without having to cough – I knew something wasn’t right so we went to the doctors and it’s all gone from there.”

A CT scan showed fibres on his lungs so David needed a biopsy, which confirmed he had idiopathic pulmonary fibrosis (IPF). He remains breathless and now uses oxygen and still has the cough. He returned to work but soon it became too difficult and he left in January this year

Hilary added: “He’s gone from being active, fit and healthy, we enjoyed walking and cycling but it’s rare we go out now. The only cure is an organ donation. It’s a quick disease and when he was diagnosed he asked the doctor ‘how long have I got?’ and he said it could be three months, it could be 20 years, but the average is three years.”

David is now on the organ donor list for the Freeman Hospital in Newcastle – there are already 80 people on the list and 15 of them are of his blood group, but because he needs a double organ transplant, he needs to wait for a suitable organ to become available.

Hilary added: “It’s totally changed our lives. “If you sign up that’s all you have to do while you’re living, but it allows your organs to be used after death which means someone else can live. Until you face it you don’t realise how important it is. He was fit and healthy and then this happens.”

Today's Visitors

head of last weekend's clash with Ipswich, Bolton were undefeated in six games under new manager Dougie Freedman.

Freedman's first game in charge was a successful one as he guided them to a

2-1 victory over Cardiff City. From there, the Wanderers compiled a chain of four successive draws and a win over Lancashire rivals Blackburn Rovers, courtesy of goals from Kevin Davies and Chung-Yung Lee. Bolton narrowly missed out on Premier League survival last season, as they were one point away from safety on the final day of the campaign.

The Wanderers did not adjust very well to new life in the npower Championship after claiming just three wins in their first 10 games. As a result, Bolton sacked Owen Coyle and announced the appointment of Freedman on October 25.

Freedman left Crystal Palace who gave him his first job in football management, to take up the job at the Reebok Stadium.

Bolton currently lie 18th in the npower Championship, ten points adrift from the drop zone and have only won two of their last ten away trips.

Returning to Huddersfield will be Arsenal loanee Benik Afobe who made 32 appearances for Town in the 2010/11 campaign. The 19 year-old striker featured in Town's 3-0 Play-Off Final defeat to Peterborough capping his loan spell with eight goals and 10 assists.

Freedman has no fresh injury concerns although David Wheater and Josh Vela both remain sidelined with knee problems. Midfielder Mark Davies will return to the team today after sitting out the Blackburn game with a one-match suspension.

Bolton last played against Huddersfield when they were previously in the second tier of professional football together back in the 2000/01 season. That game finished in a 2-2 draw however, Bolton have won the majority of meetings claiming six wins out of their last eight contests with Town dating back to 1996.

Gaffer

Dougie Freedman

Dougie Freedman was announced as the new Bolton Wanderers manager on October 25, 2012.

The former Scotland international had been in charge of Crystal Palace for 21 months, taking over from George Burley in January 2011, under whom he had previously been assistant to.

In his first managerial role, the Glaswegian initially helped steer the Eagles away from the relegation zone and then in his first full season in charge enjoyed a memorable run to the League Cup semi-finals, toppling Manchester United at Old Trafford along the way.

The Selhurst Park club made a promising start to the 2012/13 season, with Freedman collecting the Manager of the Month accolade for September after the Eagles went undefeated throughout the month.

Freedman began his managerial career at Palace as the reserve team manager in 2007, taking on the role alongside his playing duties and he would undertake a similar position at Southend United following his move in 2008.

As a player, Freedman was twice-capped by Scotland, making his debut against Latvia at Hampden Park in October 2001 scoring the equaliser in their 2002 FIFA World Cup qualifier, before making one more appearance in a friendly against France.

The striker was on the books of QPR as a youngster before he later joined the London club in 1995 scoring 20 times in his opening season, which included an 11 minute hat-trick against Grimsby Town.

Freedman would play an integral role in Palace's promotion to the Premier League in 1997 when he scored crucial goals in the 89th and 90th minutes of their Play-Off Semi-final tie with Wolves, as the Eagles went on to beat Sheffield United 1-0 in the Wembley Final.

Following spells at Wolves and Nottingham Forest, Freedman would return to Selhurst Park in 2000 under manager Alan Smith and scored the vital goal against Stockport County on the final game of the season to ensure the London club avoided relegation and remained in the second tier of English football.

In all, Freedman would register over 350 appearances during his two spells with Palace scoring 95 goals over the 10 year period. The Scotland striker would also represented Leeds United and Southend United during a 16-year playing career.

2011/12 was a breakthrough year for the Hungarian stopper, as he emerged as No.1 for both club and country.

He joined Bolton in 2007 from Hungarian side Vasas, but his Wanderers appearances had been few and far between until January 2012 due to the consistency of Jussi Jaaskelainen.

But when Jaaskelainen picked up an injury at the turn of the year, Bogdan stepped in and produced a string of fine performances to ensure he kept his place in the starting line-up.

Matt Mills

Bolton Wanderers struck a deal with Leicester City to bring Matt Mills to the Reebok Stadium on a three-year contract on July 4, 2012.

Last season Mills made 31 appearances for Leicester having been recruited from Reading almost a year ago.

During his two-year spell with the Royals, Mills had been a virtual ever-present, clocking up 75 games between the summers of 2009 and 2011. Just over 15 months ago he helped Reading to reach the Championship Play-Off Final, scoring a header as they were denied promotion to the top-flight by Swansea, who won the game at Wembley 4-2.

Zat Knight

Zat Knight moved to the Reebok in July 2009 signing from Aston Villa.

Standing at six foot six inches tall, Knight has a wealth of experience, making his professional debut for Fulham back in 2000.

Knight has also received full international recognition with England, earning caps against USA and Colombia in 2005.

During his three years with Bolton, Knight has notched over 100 appearances in all competitions.

Tyrone Mears

Tyrone Mears joined Bolton from Burnley as part of the same deal that saw Chris Eagles move to the club in the summer of 2011.

However, he has been restricted to just one run-out since his arrival due to injury. He cruelly broke his leg in a training session ahead of the 2011/12 campaign - just a week after completing his transfer to the Reebok Stadium.

Stephen Warnock

Former England International Warnock is currently on a three-month loan with the Wanderers from Aston Villa.

The 30 year-old started his career at Liverpool spending five years at Anfield making 66 appearances for the senior team after making his debut in 2004.

In January 2007 Warnock set out on a new venture, moving to Ewood Park for two successful seasons with Blackburn.

Midfield

Chris Eagles

Eagles topped the club's assist charts during his first season at the Reebok Stadium, having been used predominantly out wide but he is equally adept at playing in the centre of midfield.

He joined Bolton in July 2011 along with Burnley teammate Tyrone Mears in a double swoop made by former boss Owen Coyle.

As a youngster, Eagles came through the ranks at Watford before joining Manchester United at the age of 14.

Eagles made his Manchester United debut in October 2003 against Leeds United, before scoring his first goal against Everton.

He was a key member of Coyle's Burnley side that won Premier League promotion in 2008/09.

25

Darren Pratley

Darren Pratley joined Bolton ahead of the 2011/12 season on a free transfer after his contract with Swansea City expired.

In his first season at the Reebok he made a total of 32 appearances and scored his first Wanderers goal against his former employers.

The 27-year-old previously made 199 appearances during a five-year spell with the Welsh outfit, scoring 31 goals. His last outing for the Swans was in the npower Championship play-off final win over Reading at Wembley that secured Premier League promotion.

Mark Davies

A virtual ever-present in the Trotters engine room this season, skilful midfielder Davies began his career at Wolves – first breaking into their team under the management of Glenn Hoddle in the 2005/06 season.

A former England Under-19 international, his playing time at Molineux was restricted through injury in his early years but he soon established himself before ending his 10 year association with the Club to join then Premier League Wanderers in January 2009 for an undisclosed fee.

Keith Andrews

Andrews joined Bolton as a free agent in the summer after leaving Premier League West Brom. Linked with Town as a potential target at the time, the goal-scoring central midfielder represented the Republic of Ireland in the Euro 2012 tournament – playing every minute until receiving a red card in their final game against Italy.

Andrews has represented the likes of Wolves, MK Dons and Blackburn Rovers during his career and is a genuine goal threat, as well as a robust tackler

Up Front

David N'Gog

Bolton Wanderers signed French striker N'Gog from Liverpool on deadline day in August 2011, signing a three-year contract.

In his first season at the club the 23-year-old established himself as a first team regular, making a total of 39 appearances.

Prior to joining the Whites, N'Gog had three years' worth of experience in the Barclays Premier League, having first moved to England from Paris St Germain in 2008.

On the international scene, N'Gog has earned honours for France from Under-16 level through to the Under-21 setup. He has made 18 appearances for his country since making his debut.

Benik Afobe

Bolton Wanderers confirmed that they had secured the services of Afobe on a season-long loan deal from Arsenal on 3 August 2012.

Afobe has been on Arsenal's books since 2001 and graduated through their academy. The 19-year-old striker put pen-to-paper on a deal at the Reebok after returning from the Gunners' pre-season tour of Asia.

In his first appearance, Afobe replaced Marvin Sordell at half time and scored a hat trick as Wanderers registered an impressive 3-1 win over Tranmere Rovers in pre-season.

He has also had spells at Huddersfield and most recently, Reading in their promotion-winning season.

Clyde Wijnhard turns in the Bolton box in the 3-0 defeat in April 2000

Football League Division 1
Saturday 22 April, 2000

Over 14,000 Town fans witnessed a mauling of their side by Bolton in late April, 2000. Much had been expected of the Terriers following four straight clean sheets and a win against Charlton in their last outing.

Sadly, the match was over as a contest by the hour mark. Two superb strikes from Danish hitman Bo Hansen and one from Mike Whitlow saw 2,000 Lancastrians go home happy.

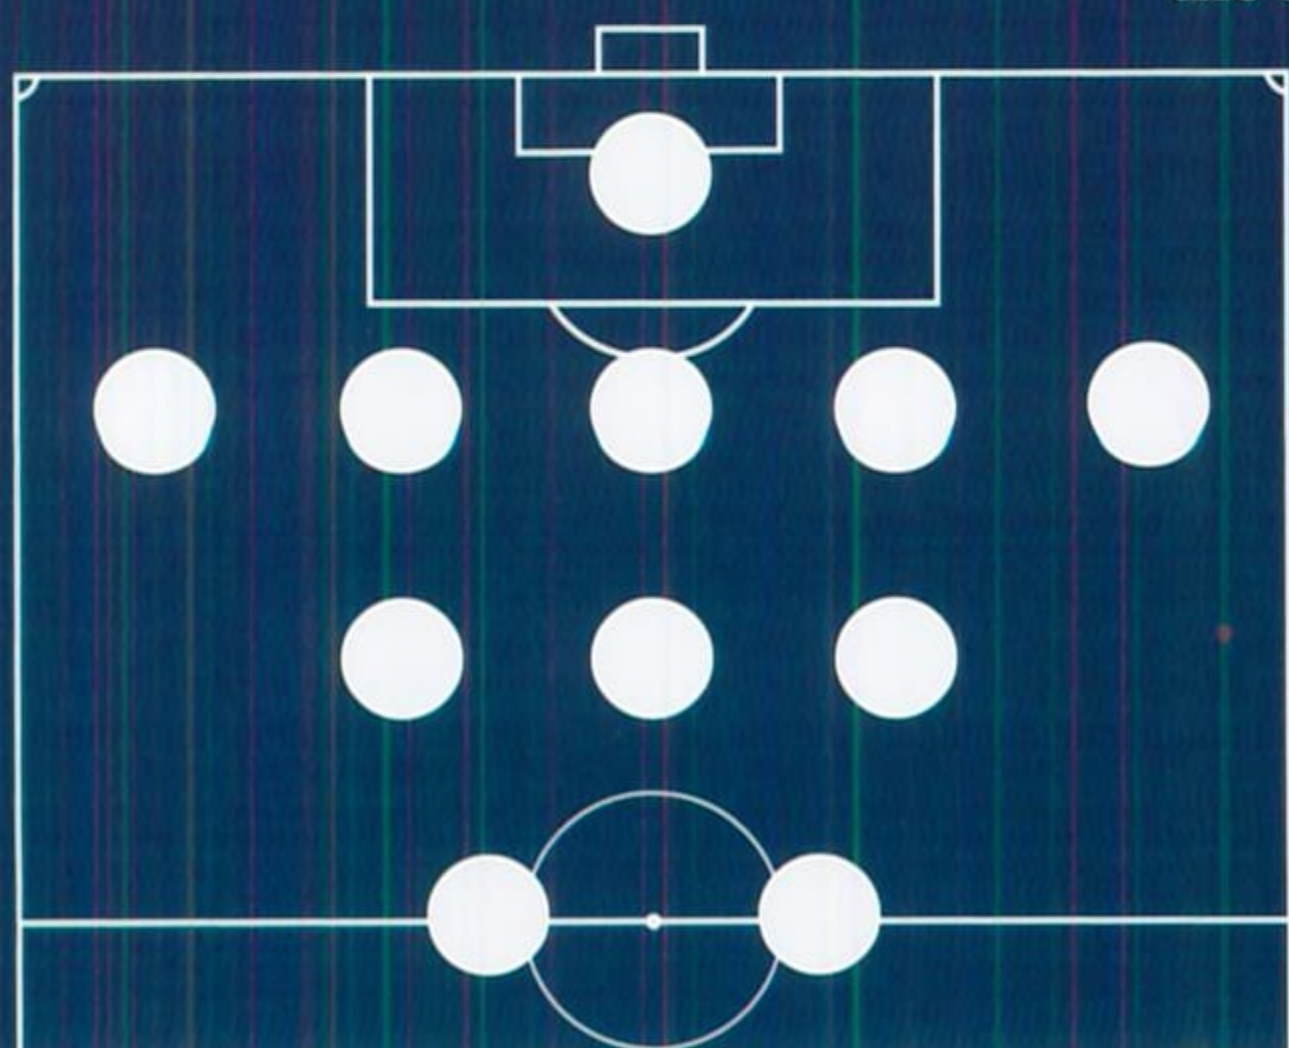

Buoyed by a sensational victory against Charlton the week previous the Terriers started well and thought they had broken the deadlock in the fourth minute, but Clyde Wijnhard's strike was wiped out by an offside flag.

Hansen scored the first of his brace not long after when he headed in at the back post, but Town squandered another chance to open its account when Chris Beech sent Chris Hay clear for him to shoot wide from 12 yards.

Bolton's Scandinavian trio of Eidur Gudjohnsen, Claus Jensen and Hansen took a hold of the game after Hay's miss and quickly swept the Wanderers into a two goal lead. Gudjohnsen's weaving run provided the assist for Hansen to finish smartly from the edge of the area.

After the break Town had chances to gain a foothold back in to the game. Substitute Martin Smith would have made it 1-2 had it not been for Gudni Bergsson's superb block at the back post; before Beech wasted a chance after good play from the former Bolton midfielder Scott Sellars.

Having escaped those scares, it took Bolton only four minutes to seal its victory with a first goal in two and half years for skipper Mike Whitlow – and what a cracker it was. Town had no answer as they were ripped apart by some wonderful build-up play by Jensen and Allan Johnstone and Whitlow – raiding forward from his left-back slot in a stunning break – was left with a free header in the centre of goal.

Bolton 1-0 Town - 16/10/1999

Nico Vaesen; Craig Armstrong, Ken Monkou, Chris Lucketti, Steve Jenkins; George Donis, Scott Sellars, Kenny Irons, Dean Gorre; Marcus Stewart, Clyde Wijnhard

Town's trip to Bolton in late 1999 was one of the first away games that I remember – although it can't have been for the action on the pitch as we promised very little.

Our cause wasn't helped by a horrible injury to defender Chris Lucketti. He had been arguably our best player all season and to see him go off with a broken leg was a big blow. What didn't help though was the fact that his centre-half partner Ken Monkou had to trudge on with an injury.

Despite that, we pushed Bolton very close and only an impressive strike from left-back Ricardo Gardner proved the difference. In attack, we looked drained and short of ideas, we lacked the sparkle which had helped us topple Chelsea in the Worthington Cup only a few weeks before.

The Town support that day was brilliant in the Reebok Stadium with over 2,600 of us travelling over. It could have been a different story as well if Clyde Wijnhard had taken our best chance of the game, the Dutchman was sent clear by Craig Armstrong and nine times out of 10 would have converted, but on this day he didn't.

Town looked off the pace all over the pitch, which was highlighted by the ease in which the Bolton defenders out muscled Clyde and also kept Marcus Stewart very quiet.

As poor as Town were in attack the Bolton defence were fantastic, led by their big South African Mark Fish. He and his defensive unit – which included a young Jussi Jaaskelainen on as a substitute – didn't give Town a chance and put on the best defensive display that we had come up against all season.

The defeat started a run of four games without victory against Bolton going in to today's game – hopefully that will all change by 5pm!

Bolton 2-2 Town - 10/2/2001

Nico Vaesen; Craig Armstrong, Chris Lucketti, Thomas Henry, Steve Jenkins; Ben Thornley, Adi Moses, Chris Holland, Martin Smith; Delroy Facey, Kevin Gallen

This game was over ten years ago, but I remember it vividly, mainly because of the referee gifting Bolton the chance to equalise with virtually the last kick of the game.

The referee had accused Chris Lucketti of handling the ball, which was a ludicrous decision and one that always seems to go with the favourites and against the underdogs. Saying that though, Per Frandsen still had a job on to equalise and he did so in superb style curling a shot past Nico Vaesen – who had been fantastic all game.

Frandsen's goal should have been a consolation, though. Craig Armstrong had early missed a penalty when the score was at 2-1 after the powerful Delroy Facey had been brought down in the box by Bolton's 'keeper.

Our performance certainly showed that we were up for the fight for staying in the First Division. We took a two goal lead and looked assured and accomplished. Martin Smith opened the scoring when Bolton's 'keeper mis-punched a corner, presenting the striker with the easiest of chances. Bolton were at sixes-and-sevens and we made them pay for more slack defending when Kevin Gallen nipped on to a Steve Jenkins pass before rounding the Bolton 'keeper and finishing from a narrow angle – it was a finish of the highest quality.

Commence typical Town. Firstly, Gudni Bergsson restored the deficit to just one with a 60th minute header before we missed a host of chances, including the penalty, resulting a nervous finale. You have to credit Frandsen for his strike which levelled matters, but the awarding of the free-kick was madness. In a game where we should have won by one or two goals we ended up drawing – it turned out to be a disappointing evening and indicative of the way our season had gone.

Town's Delroy Facey gets a shot away as Colin Hendry closes him down in the match against Bolton at the Reebok Stadium in 2001

ACADEMY

Mark Lillis has achieved a lot as a player and a coach during his time in football – but he told Give Us An H that his first full season in charge of the Academy has been ‘the biggest challenge of his career’.

The former Town player has overseen big changes in Town’s youth system thanks to the new Elite Player Performance Plan and described his experiences as the season reaches its halfway stage.

“The Chairman wanted to go for category 2 status and that was my aim too; to be honest it wouldn’t have been worth coming back from Spain to go for category 3 or 4,” Mark explained. “Category 2 gives us a great, challenging games programme for the players and staff and positions the Academy at a level where we can genuinely sell what we’re building here, to both our current players and to ones we want to attract.

“A lot of hard work has gone in to the audit process, but everyone pulled together like we do at Huddersfield Town. We’ve undergone the audit last week, barring the Saturday and Sunday games review, and I am very confident that we have taken the Academy to the level that will be expected of us within the new regulations.”

On the pitch, Town’s Under-18 side enter December sitting sixth out of 12 in the Under-18 Professional Development League 2 North – a distinct improvement over results in previous years.

“Considering the change of staff we’ve had, I think the Under-18 results have been fairly good. Albeit it’s not all about results, but they are an indicator of our development,” Lillis continued. “The first year scholars have stepped up and done well, but our mentality in the Academy – as well as at First Team level thanks to the Manager – is that if you’re good enough, you will play – irrespective of age.

“I’m really pleased with the staff and how the players are performing. I think we’ve had around eight players train with the First Team or be involved with the Under-21s and alongside international recognition; it is fantastic for us as an Academy and a Club.”

Lillis’ young charges have to look no further than Chris Atkinson’s display last weekend to see what can be achieved for Academy graduates.

“When I came back to the Academy I discovered it was only optional that the scholars watch the First Team on a Saturday – that went out of the window inside a minute! Before last Saturday I told the scholars that it would only take one big tackle or a goal for the fans to take to a local lad and I hope seeing Chris out there scoring in a local derby will give the other lads belief that it can happen for them. It’s a great place to be at the minute.”

Benno’s Bullseye Challenge is a season long competition run by GUAH which will test the players’ dart skills. The rules are simple: two minutes on the clock, one point for a dart in the 25 and two points per dart in the bullseye.

Midfielder Chris Atkinson made an impression on the pitch after returning from Chesterfield and didn’t do too bad from the Oche, matching Jack Hunt’s score of 8 in his 2 minutes.

Chris’ score: One dart in the Bull = 2 points
 Six darts in the 25 zone = 6 points

GIVE AND LET LIVE

This may only be the second successive season that Town has used one of its games to promote the importance of Organ Donation, but it seems even more poignant a message today as the Terriers take on Bolton Wanderers.

Many of you may remember Croatian international striker Ivan Klasnic, who spent three seasons playing for the Trotters until he departed for Bundesliga side Mainz 05 in the summer. However, it's likely many Town fans won't know that Klasnic is the first player ever to undergo an organ transplant and subsequently feature in a big international tournament – Euro 2008.

It was November 2005 and Klasnic's Werder Bremen had just beaten Udinese 4-3 in the Champions League. However, Klasnic's jubilation at the final whistle was offset by a dull, aching pain in the pit of his stomach.

"They took me to hospital and said I might need my appendix removed," he told the Guardian back in 2009. "But when the hospital took some blood tests they told me they could not operate because there was something wrong, a problem with the creatinine. They asked me if I had had kidney problems before and I said no. They did some more tests and that's when they broke the news that it was serious."

He was told his kidneys could probably be saved with drugs. By December the following year, however, Klasnic was suffering from renal failure and needing a transplant to save his life. The timing could hardly have been worse. His wife, Patricia, had just given birth to his first child, a daughter, Fabiana.

He could have been put on a waiting list and undergone dialysis three times a week, which would have almost certainly meant ending his career. Instead his mother, Sima, donated one of her kidneys. "We had all the tests, the cross-checks, and everything was good," Klasnic says. "It was a terrible feeling, a sense of fear, being a son and putting my mother through all of that worry. But she wanted to help. I could have been on a waiting list for five years but, normally, if you get a transplant from your mother or father it always works."

Five days later, on Klasnic's 27th birthday, he was informed that his body had rejected the organ. "I don't know what the odds are – 5,000 to one, maybe even a million to one. I just know that was the lowest moment for me."

That's just one of many stories you can relate to the importance of Organ Donation relating solely to the two sides competing today's game; former Town promotion winner Anthony Lloyd's daughter suffers from cystic fibrosis and could need a lung transplant in the future, Ticket Office Manager Sue Beaumont's husband Charlie wanted to give his organs for donation when he sadly suffered a fatal heart attack in 2010 and Receptionist Hilary Horsfall's family is currently being directed affected by Organ Donation, as you can read elsewhere in his programme.

This season the campaign is also being supported by Heart Research UK – highlighting another issue that is very close to Bolton Wanderers given the highly publicised cardiac arrest their player Fabrice Muamba suffered on the pitch at Tottenham Hotspur in March 2012.

Since April, the NHS Trust's teams have supported five families in Halifax and Huddersfield through the donation process after losing their loved ones. As a result, more than 30 lives have been saved or enhanced. The Trust now has two honeycomb-shaped memorials for patients who have become donors in the Huddersfield Royal Infirmary entrance and close to A&E at Calderdale Royal Hospital.

There are currently more than 10,000 people across the UK who need an organ transplant. On average, three people a day die before they get a transplant simply because there are not enough organs available.

NHS staff will be around the ground today; please talk to them about organ donation and find out if it is for you. Last season's game was a great success, with Town fans like Marcus Garside and Chris Sheard now on the register. Marcus tweeted @htafcdotcom: "I have been on the donor register for a good few years, but well done for plugging it, plus well done Town." Chris admitted that he signed up following the conclusion of the game: "I've just added myself to the NHS organ donation register.

It took 2 minutes. Do it every one!"

GUAH gets the inside knowledge on what happens when the Terriers go on tour! This week we caught up with Calum Woods and Peter Clarke.

Q Who controls the remote?

A CW: Me, when I am not on my iPad
PC: He tends to be on his iPad, so I will flick through the tele

Q What are the favoured TV channels?

A CW: I like watching boxsets, we don't talk much or get on with each other!
PC: I wouldn't like to comment on what he watches on his iPad

Q Which one of you has any bad habits?

A CW: There aren't any
PC: None that get on my nerves

Q Who is the untidiest?

A CW: I wouldn't say that skip is untidy
PC: Cal is ok

Q Who likes to get an early night?

A CW: You get up earlier than me
PC: He is half man half mattress!

Q Who is the first one up?

A PC: He likes to sleep in, I get up early

Q Any snorers?

A CW: Skip snores a bit; I have hit him over the head with a pillow before
PC: I was waiting for that; I do a bit, yes

Q Who causes a bit of bother in the hotel?

A CW: Jack is the main one
PC: Jack and Wardy are the main ones – everyone else is kidding themselves

Q Which roommates have you got to look out for?

A CW: Gez is just loud; you try and stay away from him
PC: It is lucky dip for who rooms with Gez – it was probably Aky for Middlesbrough!

Q Who are the quietest roommates?

A CW: Muz (Murray Wallace)
PC: Muzza and whoever he is with

Q Something you can't travel without?

A CW: iPad. Skip can't travel without his phone; he is always on it to his missus

TOM'S TRAINING TIPS

There has never been a better time to become a member of the Canalside gym following the recent redevelopment!

However, there is no point in using the gym if you don't know which machines do what and what exercise will best suit your training.

To give you a hand, First Team Fitness Coach Tom Little is going to provide a week by week introduction to the gym.

INTERVAL TRAINING

Interval training has recently received lots of good press for both the academic and commercial sides of the fitness industry. It basically entails endurance training where you work quite hard for moderate and have rest or low intensity periods before repeating the bout a number of times – hence interval training. By working harder than normal, it stimulates the body to change more than normal.

The rest intervals in between mean the total amount of work done at a high intensity is greater than can be achieved in a single bout to fatigue. Interval training compared to continuous training has produced positive results in terms of improvements in endurance capacities and reductions in body fat, despite having much shorter total work times.

A number of intervals training protocols exist. The Tabata system is very popular. It basically involves working almost as hard as possible for 20sec and resting 10sec, for a total of 3-5min. Sets can be repeated 2-4 times. We use VO2max intervals a lot with the players. These involve bout of 2-4min repeated for a total of 12-18min work time, with rests of half the work time. To get the right intensity run as far as you can in 5min and the average speed, or if you have heart rate feedback it will be ~ 90% of your maximum heart rate.

Canalside Stripes Gym offers an abundance of equipment on which you can perform interval training, including treadmills, cross-trainers, bikes, spinning bikes and rowers. You just need to be prepared to put in the hard work.

The half-time Golden Gamble draw is sponsored by the Antoni's Memorial Trophy – presented to Huddersfield Town's Academy Player of the Year at the Annual Awards by the Kaminski family.

The trophy was produced in honour of Antoni Owczarek, a young Town fan who tragically lost his life in a car accident in 2004.

Halifax-born Tom Clarke won the award at the end of the 2004/05 season. The 24 year-old made his debut for the Terriers over seven years and has since gone on to make over 100 appearances.

BWF PLAYER OF THE MONTH

LEE NOVAK

Town striker Lee Novak has been voted by Blue & White Foundation members as their November 'Player of the Month'!

The Club's top scorer netted a brace in the 2-2 home draw against Blackburn Rovers earlier in the month to take his seasonal tally to four.

BWF member Mike Pearson of Clayton West was one of the many fans that voted for the former Gateshead man and was drawn at random to meet Lee before the home clash with Bolton on Saturday to present him with his champagne!

TOWN CLINCH THE FIRST HAT – TRICK IN ENGLISH FOOTBALL

Town 3 Bolton 0 (Div.1) 12th April 1926

This match was one of the most important in the history of the English League Championship. Town needed only one point to be certain of taking the First Division Championship for the third successive season, thus becoming the first team ever to achieve the 'hat-trick' of titles.

On paper this appeared no easy task, as at that time Wanderers were Town's number one 'bogy' side, having already inflicted a 1-6 defeat at Burnden Park earlier in the season. Indeed Town supporters who left work early to make the 5.30pm kick-off viewed the task with some trepidation. Could their favourites bring to an end a long run of humiliation? It was clear that many out-of-town fans were unable to travel in on time and only about half of the eventual 20,909 saw the kick-off, while many also missed Town's opening two goals which virtually sealed the points and the Championship. After 11 minutes Wadsworth's beautiful forward pass found Cook who touched it sideways for Smith whose drive into the roof of the net fairly rattled the goal.

Four minutes later Smith centred perfectly, the ball hit the bar and bounced out to Jackson who headed into the net. Near the break Smith was again the creator for Jackson to head the ball across goal to Stephenson who prodded home to complete the scoring. The second half was relatively dull especially after the exciting opening but this did nothing to dampen the enthusiasm at the end as Town were greeted by round after round of cheering and applause.

After the match the team was presented on stage during the second performance at the Hippodrome!

'HAIL TOWN! THRICE CHAMPIONS!' was the Examiner headline the following day and this was followed by two action shots of the match – previously unheard of for an evening game!

Interestingly the first telegrams of congratulations received by Town after clinching the coveted Championship and hence the even more prodigious 'hat-trick' were from the following football clubs – Cardiff, Hearts, Newcastle, Doncaster, Stoke, Bishop Auckland, Bury, Leeds, Aston Villa, Young Fellows' F.C. Zurich and Arsenal. It can be seen from this list that with the exception of Herbert Chapman's club, good wishes from the Southern representatives of the League were conspicuous by their absence!

Town were Champions, no other football club could prevent them making history as the first club in the English Football League to win a hat-trick of Championships but the British Government nearly did just that! The country was in turmoil with a General Strike imminent and politicians debated whether to suspend sporting events. At the 11th hour it was decreed that as the Football League season had only two weeks to run, fixtures should be completed.

'Those were the days my friends, we'd thought they'd never end, we won the League three times in a row.....'

Can Android Tablets download copies of 'Give Us An H' soon?

Neil Garraghan, via Twitter

Answered by Communications Manager Dave Sykes

As many fans will already know, Town has paired up with Hertfordshire-based Match Day Digital to produce a downloadable and tablet version of the Club's Match Day Magazine for iPads.

You can download programmes easily; simply go to the iTunes App store and search for 'Match Day Digital'; download their FREE app and then search for Huddersfield Town using their easy search function!

At this stage it is available on iPad only, but we're hoping this will be extended to other devices in the near future. I'm delighted to say that Matchday Digital will be shortly available on the iPhone and that we hope this will be approved and live within the next 7-10 days. This should help sales enormously due to the size of the iPhone market.

How do people get featured in half-time games?

Samuel Noble, via Facebook

Answered by Community Development Officer Rob Day

Our Football in the Community staff pick the participants for our half-time games on match day. At around 2.30pm we send a member of staff into each stand to ask for participants, so if you want to get involved my advice is to get into the ground nice and early and look for our staff members coming into your stand from pitch side – they will be in a full Huddersfield Town tracksuit!

Young Terriers

The 'Young Terriers' are hoping to attract new members to their meetings before Saturday home fixtures!

The group – one of Town's oldest supporter organisations – get together at the Sports Complex at Leeds Road Playing Fields at 12.30, before going on to the game.

The Young Terriers is for supporters aged eight to 13 and has been going for last 27 years – many of today's Season Card holders have been through the much-loved organisation.

Around 30 youngsters are meeting each home Saturday this season, but the Young Terriers are keen to get back towards the time when 100 kids used to meet before matches at Leeds Road and the Stadium.

That's why new members are welcome to go along this Saturday and join in the fun.

YT committee member Steve Brooks explained: "We meet at noon for a 12.30 start at the Sports Barn down Leeds Road and we have a great time.

"The kids play five-a-side, have lunch and drinks, get a programme for the game and then have a coach down to the stadium.

"Once they are there, they have their own, safe, designated seating area and enjoy supporting the team."

The Young Terriers also travel to selected away games.

Cost for any youngster who is a season-card holder is £7 per meeting for the whole package, while it's £16 for those who are not Season Card holders.

"We also have a Christmas party and the great thing is that, at the end-of-season party, all the Town squad attend so our members are guaranteed to meet the players," added Brooks.

The YTs are split into two age groups for the five-a-side, with the 11-plus youngsters on one pitch and the younger ones on another.

"It's just a fun way to spend a Saturday and support the club," added Brooks.

"You don't even have to be good at football to join us – you just need to be enthusiastic about having a go and supporting Town in their matches at the stadium."

QUOTES of the WEEK

"The club regrets not having given more consideration before issuing a statement on the evening of Sunday 28th October. The club also regrets the subsequent impact the intense media scrutiny had on Mark Clattenburg and his family."

- Chelsea attempt to draw a line under the most unedifying of affairs.

"It is difficult to imagine what goes through my head now even for myself. I am full of adrenaline and if you poke me now I wouldn't feel it. It was an incredible race. A lot of people tried to play dirty tricks [during the season], but we did not get distracted by that and kept going, and all the guys gave a big push right to the end."

- Sebastian Vettel becomes the youngest driver in history to win three world titles - at six years younger than Ayrton Senna.

"I always said I'd struggle to come back and play in England because I've played for the biggest club in the world and biggest club in England - Manchester United. So I couldn't see myself playing for any other Premier League club, but you never know. I've got options on the table."

- David Beckham puts half of the Premier League on red alert.

DEVELOPMENT

TOP SCORERS:

MATT CROOKS

Midfielder Crooks has hit top form over the last few weeks notching four goals in his last four games. Playing alongside Captain Jordan Sinnott in the middle of the park, the tall midfielder has shown excellent ability to time his runs perfectly in to the box and to also finish when the ball is delivered to him.

GODWIN ABADAKI

Diminutive Abadaki is currently on a youth loan from Steve Eyre’s previous managerial post, Rochdale. Despite his size, the striker is good in the air and proved that by notching the winner against Sheffield Wednesday in late September. His latest goals came against Nottingham Forest when he showed his predatory instinct in front of goal to grab a brace.

CONNOR LOFTUS

Formerly of Bury, Loftus joined Steve Eyre’s squad in the summer and has impressed off the bench this season. Loftus has struggled with injuries of late, but has still managed to notch three goals in six appearances so far this term. Arguably Town under-21s’ best goal of the season so far has come from the boot of Loftus when he scored a superb 30 yard volley to clinch three points against Coventry.

Pedal for Pounds 4 is here!

Huddersfield Town Football Club is pleased to announce the fourth annual Pedal for Pounds bike ride in aid of the ‘Keep It Up’ campaign: The Tour of Yorkshire!

The ride will see Chairman Dean Hoyle, Commercial Director Sean Jarvis and Club Ambassador Andy Booth take to the roads for the fourth time on the 240 mile ride around the county to raise funds for the Yorkshire Air Ambulance charity and the Huddersfield Town Academy.

The Club’s previous three bike rides have contributed over half a million pounds to the £720,000 raised for the campaign so far since its inception in 2009.

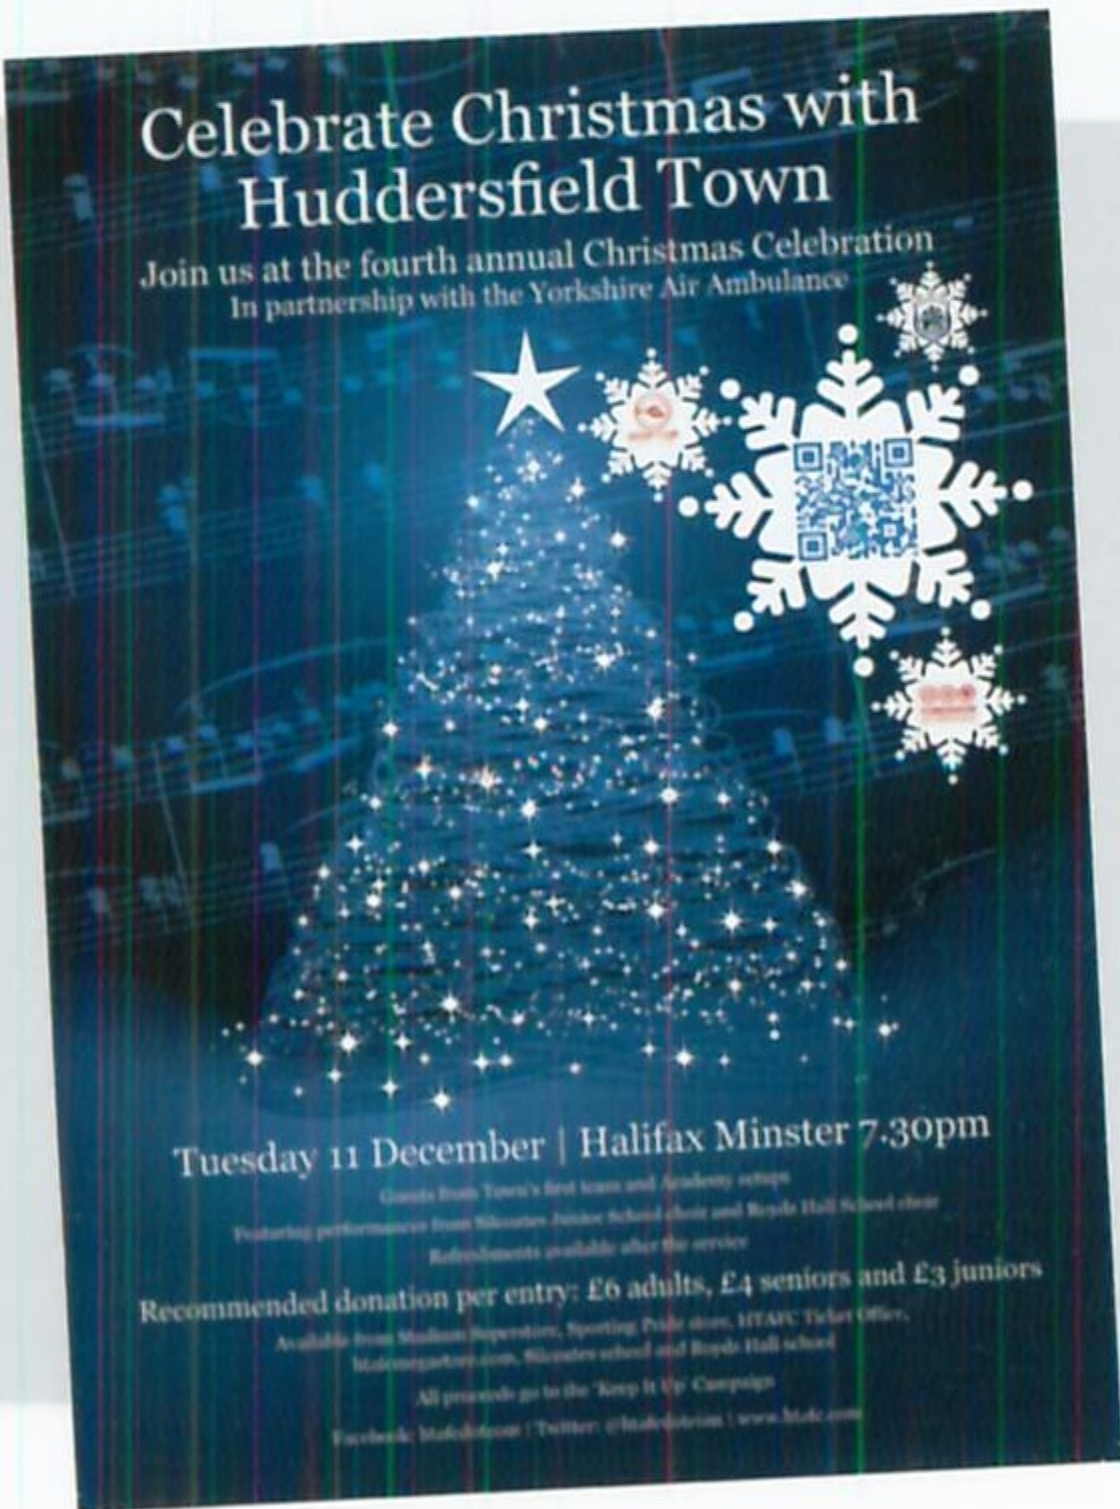

Commercial Director Sean Jarvis commented, “Fans have been waiting since the epic Pedal for Pounds 3 ride finished to find out what the Club has in store for Pedal for Pounds 4!” ⁶³

“The aim of this season’s ride is to get as many fans, partners and sponsors as possible to take part, and really try and achieve the £1 million goal which we set at the start of the season.

“With the ride circling Yorkshire, we are hoping for lots of support from the many Town fans spread around the county – I think this ride will be the best one yet!”

The ride will begin on Wednesday 1 May 2013, with cyclists starting the ride in Huddersfield, and ending it back in Huddersfield in time for the last home game of the season against Barnsley on Saturday 4 May.

Full details on the route and how to sign up will be announced next week on htafc.com!

PAY ON THE DOOR FOR CHRISTMAS CELEBRATION

The Club’s fourth annual Christmas Celebration in aid of the KIU campaign will take place on Tuesday 11 December at Halifax Minster- and pay on the door is available!

Recommended donation per entry is £6 per adults, £4 per senior and £3 per junior which will go towards the Yorkshire Air Ambulance and HTAFC Academy.

The event starts at 7.30pm and will be attended by the full first team squad and will feature performances from Royds Hall school choir and Silcoates junior school choir.

NEW KID ON THE BLOCK

familiar face was one of the key factors in midfielder Scott Kay selecting Huddersfield Town above a number of other options during the summer when he has to decide on the next step in his career.

The Manchester-born 23 year-old came up through the Manchester City youth setup and admitted that the chance to work with Town's Senior Professional Development Coach Steve Eyre was too good to turn down.

"Steve is probably the main reason that I'm at this Club," Scott told Give Us An H. "I was going on trial at a few places during the summer and when I came to Huddersfield on the same basis I played in a game and it went well, so things went from there.

"Steve had actually set me up with the Accrington manager beforehand and I also had a trial set up at Rangers, but when this opportunity came up I thought it was my best option.

"I love it here so far. Hopefully I can get back soon and my chance will come."

Kay – who was part of City's FA Youth Cup winning side in 2008 – has played five times this season as an overage player in the Under-21 Professional Development League 2 and explained that he believes the new setup can help players adapt to the rigours and demands of First Team football.

"I think it's good. Playing against the overage players raises the standard as well, but I do think that if you play well in the Under-21 League then the next step is to go out on loan. There's nothing better than playing First Team football," Scott, who played 18 appearances for npower League 2 side Macclesfield Town last season, explained.

"STEVE HAD ACTUALLY SET ME UP WITH THE ACCRINGTON MANAGER... I ALSO HAD A TRIAL SET UP AT RANGERS, BUT WHEN THIS OPPORTUNITY CAME UP I THOUGHT IT WAS MY BEST OPTION"

If Kay needs evidence that players will get their chance at Town if they're good enough, he need look no further than teammate Chris Atkinson and the impact he made last weekend.

"Chris did well to score on his first start of the season and it just shows that if you are good enough and you impress in training or out on loan, the Manager here will put you in the team. I'd like to think I'm still getting better and every day in training, both with the Development Squad and the First Team, you have to push yourself."

NEXT UP AT TOWN

Blackpool

Wednesday 26 December | 3pm

Town begin its turn for home on Boxing Day when they welcome Blackpool to Huddersfield.

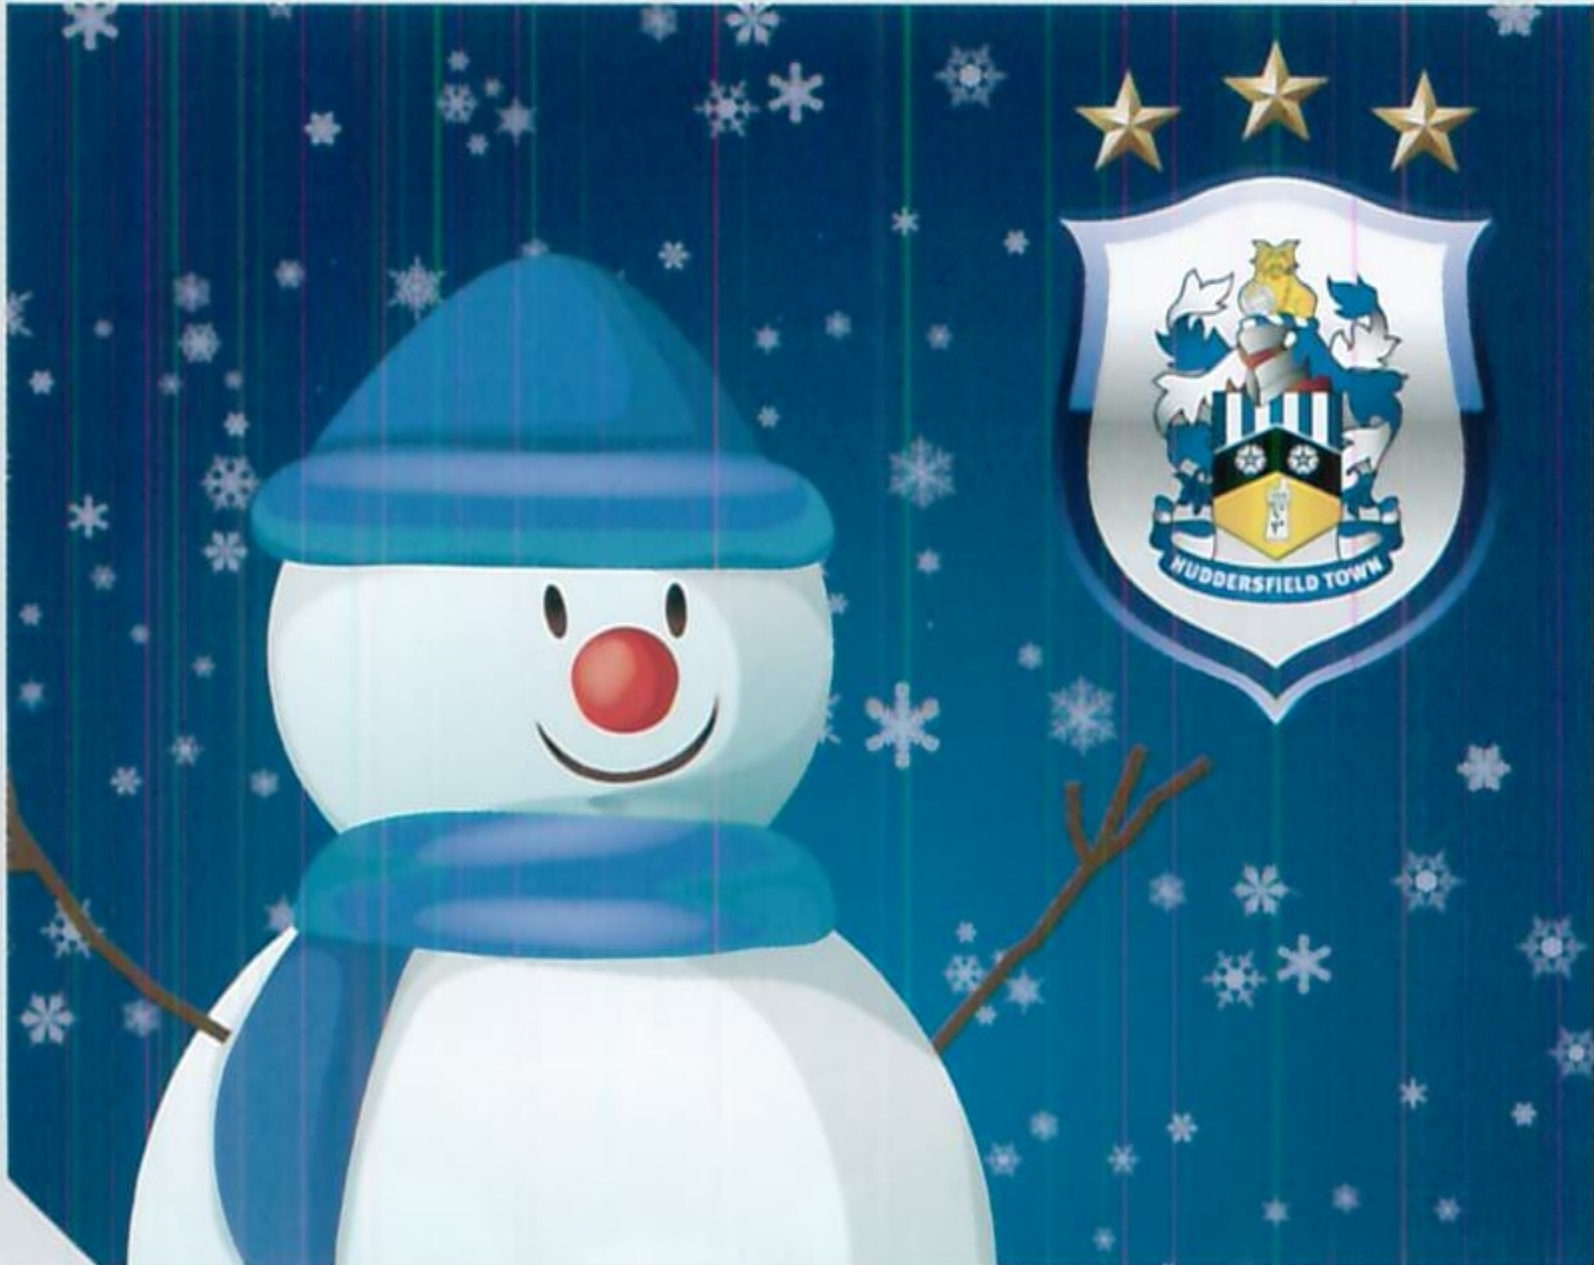

The Terriers will have played every side in the npower Championship once, by the time Michael Appleton's Seasiders arrive in West Yorkshire.

After losing in last season's Play-Off Final to West Ham, Blackpool started the season in impressive fashion and justified its promotion credentials with victories over Ipswich, Leeds and Middlesbrough.

However, a defeat against Town and then subsequent ones to Cardiff, Burnley and Charlton saw Blackpool drop off the pace. Also, a change in manager has slowed Blackpool's charge with Ian Holloway leaving to join Crystal Palace, Michael Appleton was his replacement.
